DAILY TRIBUNE.

Friday Morning ……………… Feb. 20, 1857.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

POLICE COURT—THURSDAY.—For being drunk and disorderly Thomas Arwing was fined $5; Francis Watson, John Brile, Edward Dady, Joseph Petmake, Charles Bolen and Andrew Harbeckle, $2 each.

FIREMAN'S FUNERAL.—The members of the Fire Department attended the funeral of Jacob Leitz, a worthy member of Metamora Engine Co. No. 2, yesterday afternoon.

KENOSHA HARBOR IMPROVEMENT.—The special election held in Kenosha on Tuesday last, to decide whether the city should issue bonds to the amount of $10,000, for Harbor purposes, resulted in a majority of 68 in favor of the issuance of the bonds.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire at midnight of Wednesday was occasioned by the taking fire of Abraham Frank's Saloon, on LaSalle street, near Lake street. The damage was trifling, and the premises are insured to the amount of $600, in a Providence, R. I. Company.

SATANIC.—Our "devil" asked yesterday—"What country in Central America does an African, who bores you, resemble?" We couldn't tell, but he asserted it was Nicaragua (Nigger-anger!) We tried, by way of punishment, to hit him with an un-abridged Webster, but he dodged.

HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.—We understand that W. S. Johnson, Esq., of Cincinnati, has offered to give a lot in this city on which to erect a Home for the friendless, an institution much needed here, and one which would do much good. We trust the generous offer will be accepted by our citizens.

GERMAN SCHOOL UNION FAIR.—Our paper of yesterday contained an error in stating that the Fair at West Market Hall for the benefit of the German School Union was to come on that (last) evening. The Fair will be held on the 26th inst. We shall revert to this again.

FIREMEN'S BALL AT SOUTH BEND.—The members of engine company No. 3—"Union"—of South Bend, Indiana, give a ball at the St. Joseph Hotel, on the evening of the 23d inst. It will no doubt be a pleasant affair.

HORSE THIEVES.—Capt. Beck, Chief of the Milwaukee Police, arrived in this city yesterday having in charge Joseph Baker alias John Wood, charged with stealing a valuable horse from Mr. Lyman Blair, of Michigan City, Ind. Mr. Beck found both the horse and thief in Milwaukee.

CHICAGO AND BURLINGTON RAILROAD.—On and after Friday (to-day) the trains of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad will leave the Central Depot at 7.15 A. M. for Burlington, Quincy and intermediate places. There will be no evening train until further notice. There is a little detention to passengers in consequence of two bridges not being fully repaired, but all possible facility is offered for getting around these breaks.

WARD DELEGATES.—The basis for ward delegates is one for every 150 votes cast at the last Presidential election. This will give

Four South Side Wards	28	Delegates.
Two [illegible] West Side Wards	24	"
Three North Side	21	"
Total	73	Delegates.

The 9th ward will be entitled to five delegates instead of nine as has been erroneously published. The vote cast in that ward was 685, which, divided by 150, gives 5, counting the large fraction.

TO WHOM, &C.—We commend the following epigram to the author of that huge quantity of unpublished rhymes which has helped us to light so many fires in—the coal stove:

> Quoth Tom—"I hold it for a rule
> That every poet is fool,
> And I can plainly show it."
> The bard replied—"It may be so,
> But your example goes to show
> That every fool is not a poet!"

UNPAID LETTERS.—The following is a list of letters detained at the Post Office for the non-payment of postage, Feb. 18, 1857:

W. A. Gould, Buffalo, N. Y.; F. Agents, St. Louis A. & C., Alton, Illinois; H. Walbridge, Lockport, N. Y.; John Allen, La Salle, Illinois; John G. Owens, Milwaukee, Wis.; James Laine, Goshen, Ind.; Chas. Tuttle, N. Y.; John Cyheer, Decatur, Illinois; Michael Gleason, Afton, Wis; Miss Elizabeth Findell, Steels' Mills, Illinois.

EDITOR TRIBUNE:—Please announce the name of J. C. HAINES as a candidate for Mayor, subject to the decision of the Republican Convention.

The West Side has been shamefully treated in the distribution of offices, and it is high time that a little equality was exercised. Mr. HAINES possesses the qualities necessary to make a good Mayor in a high degree. He is upright, capable, discreet, worthy and [illegible] would poll a tremendous vote on the West Side. Gentlemen of the South and North Sides give a chance to the WEST SIDE.

RETIRING ALDERMAN.—The term of office of the following named Alderman expire in March next: S. Sexton, (Dem), First Ward; O. Kendall, (Rep), Second Ward; L. Fletcher, (Rep), Third Ward; A. Colby, (Rep), Fourth Ward; C. N. Holden, (Rep), Fifth Ward; A. C. Ellithorpe, (Rep), Sixth Ward; J. L. Howe, (Dem), Seventh Ward; S. D. LaRue, (Dem), Eighth Ward. This makes five Republicans and four Democrats. The next Board will consist of twenty members, eleven of whom, including two for the new Tenth Ward, are to be elected in March.

NEW BANK.—Our old friend A. T. Sherman has purchased the interest of Jo. W. Ball, and opened the business of banking. See his card in another column. Mr. S. is a man of integrity, industry, and capability. He may be trusted under any circumstances. For a long time, he has been connected with the well known and reliable business concern of F. H. Benson & Co., and in that connection won the esteem and confidence of all who know him. We commend him heartily to our friends. As a citizen and a business man we know of no one worthier of a general support or confidence.

DIALOGUE.—A friend at our elbow relates the following as a portion of a veritable conversation, in which he was one of the parties, and which "came off" yesterday:

Our friend.—Is Mrs. X., within?

Servant.—No, sir, she's not within.

Our friend.—Um! ah! I'm sorry, for I want to pay her a small amount of money I owe her. At what time—

Mrs. X.—(At the head of the stairs) Oh! I'm in, Biddy didn't you know that? Show the gentleman into the parlor.

CHICAGO POSTAL BUSINESS.—The Times learns that in consequence of the obstructions on the railroads last week, an immense amount of mail accumulated on the roads, all of which was poured into the Chicago office on Saturday. We are further informed that, between one o'clock Saturday afternoon and Monday morning, 135,754 letters were distributed at the office. Mr. Shapley, between 8 o'clock on Sunday evening and 5 o'clock Monday morning, "threw" 19,500 packages of transient letters, besides the morning newspapers. This is considered equal to anything in that line ever performed in any office. During the same interval 700 bags of newspapers were distributed.

A MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE—THREE BOYS DROWNED.—Three sons of Mr. Lawson McClure of Barrington, in this county, aged respectively 13, 11 and 9 years, were drowned on the 15th inst. They were returning from school, when as one of them was crossing a slough he broke through the ice. The younger brother went to his assistance, when he too broke through. The older one then went to their assistance, when he too broke through. He told a still younger brother to go to their house for their father. When he returned the three boys were all drowned.

WHO SHALL BE MAYOR?—EDITORS TRIBUNE:—I have read with pleasure your article in this morning's paper with reference to "The next Mayor." Is there not respectability, honesty and [illegible]

SPRING TERM—NORTH-WEST FEMALE COLLEGE.—The next term of this institution begins Monday, March 2nd. Recitation rooms have been secured in other buildings, and although the late elegant College edifices lie in ashes, the College itself lives on. Efforts are being made by the sale of scholarships and by loans to erect a new building, and sufficient has already been accomplished to lead us to believe that by active exertion on the part of its friends, the work may be completed before another winter.

We call special attention now to the commencement of the next term, hoping that every opportunity for board which the village affords will be embraced immediately. Parents and students may be assured that all rumors representing that the College exercises for the coming summer have been suspended, are without foundation.

TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF MRS. O.—Light and tiny clouds flitted o'er the mid-winter sky, now lowering like a funeral pall, and threatening pearly rain drops to fall like the tears of the angel of sympathy, as they brought her lovely, peaceful form from her pleasant, happy home. Agony, such as only bereaved ones know, filled the hearts of that sad band of mourners, and intense anguish o'ershadowed the husband's heart as he followed her, the hope of his youth, the pride of his manhood, and the friend in whom the shadow of many years extended, to the dark and silent grave. It seemed as though his life's light would have gone out with hers. Ah, let him weep! There is a sacredness in tears, known only to breaking hearts. She was lovely and good, her voice sweet as an angel's whisper; but she sleeps; she has wrapped her mantle about her and laid down with a christian's hope. No eye was dry as they laid her there to sleep, no cheek unstained by tears, as they sorrowingly sought their homes, for she was loved by all. Her sweet babes now mourn her tender care. A pleasant thought it will be to him who has the earthly care of these little ones, that her spirit may hover near to help guide them to the glorious regions where she has gone.—Oh, may we each one take home the lesson to our hearts, that youth and goodness are passing away, and earth affords no abiding place. ANA C.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19th, 1857.

[For the Chicago Tribune.]

THE MAJORITY.—Editors Tribune:—Your article of Thursday in relation to the Mayoralty expresses just the sentiments of the great mass of the Republican party. Our candidate, if successful in the coming contest must be "capable" and honest, and any effort to force upon the Republican voters of Chicago any man whose character is not irreproachable, (if successful), will only end in a disgraceful defeat.

Republicanism whenever successful, has been so from two considerations:—first, from the purity and righteousness of its principles; and, secondly, from the high moral character and integrity of its candidates. And while the same policy prevails we shall in like manner be successful. But, once lower our standard for qualifications for office and we lose what it may take years to regain. There is no truer saying, even in politics, than that "honesty is the best policy," and especially is this the case with Republicanism.

We believe that the Republican voters of Chicago will make a wise nomination for Mayor if the presses, claiming to be Republican, will only do their whole duty in the matter. REPUBLICAN.

MATTERS OF BUSINESS.

AT the last Fair of the American Institute in New York and also in Boston, at the Fair of the Massachusetts Charitable Association, the highest prize and silver medal was awarded to A. Hesler, for Daguerreotypes and Photographs, which, say the committee "were remarkable for clearness and beauty, as well as graceful and effective arrangement of figure." The committee further say, "we are of opinion that such pictures must be judged as paintings, and as such, we prefer to all others those executed by Mr. Winter, of Chicago," at Hesler's Fine Art Gallery, No. 22 Metropolitan Building. feb20lf

WHY WILL YE DIE?—A great man is old Dr. H. James, who discovered that speedy and permanent cure for Consumption, Nervous Debility, Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, and sore throats, "the Extract of Cannabis Indica!" In New York alone it has saved thousands of lives within two years. It can be obtained in Chicago from Dr. Thomas Tilton, son-in-law of the old Doctor himself. By the way the latter prepares every bottle and box of his medicines with his own hands, or, at least, under his own immediate supervision. The reader can find Doctor Tilton for a few days at room No. 11, Massasoit House, Chicago. The Cannabis Indica is a grand stimulant and invigorant, and yet no reaction attaches to it.

He has also at his room a Spiro-Dynameter, an instrument invented by Dr. James, for testing the strength of the lungs in an instant—an instrument which is now used instead of the stethoscope, as being much preferable to that for this purpose.

The recipe will be sent to any part of the country upon receipt of four postage stamps—12 cents. Dr. TILTON, Massasoit House.

CHICAGO WHOLESALE MARKET.

A good many transactions in Grain and Provisions took place to-day, notwithstanding the disagreeableness of the weather, and the almost total stoppage of receipts.

In GRAIN we note sales of 10,000 bushels of Oats at 40c to a very responsible party, payable on delivery during the first half of May, and 20,000 bushels deliverable in April on private terms. Also 10,000 bushels of spring WHEAT at $1 on board in May, half cash down. The same buyer purchased 12,000 bushels a day or two since at $1,02, with the [illegible] down. For present delivery 99c is paid in store, several car loads selling at this to-day, mostly at outside figures; winter Wheat is quite scarce and in demand to mill, as high as $1,25 having been paid for white; red is $1,05 in store. Corn in bags is worth 2c ₩ bushel more than in bulk, for convenience of delivery to the city; here, 42c is the rate, bags returned. Good confidence is now felt in Wheat and Corn; it is said much of the present crop of Wheat is winter killed. OATS go to livery stables at 44c, but large quantities of Mill Feed is now being bought in preference, at $17@$22 ₩ ton, depending on quality and quantity.

PROVISIONS are in excellent demand. We note sales to-day of 10,000 pieces dry salted Hams in bulk at equal to 9¾c; also 200 bbls of Lard at 12½c; also 1,000 Shoulders (from slop-fed hogs) at 7½c, and the same number of slop-fed Hams at 9¾c. The terms of the above sale, cash down, and the delivery to be at the opening. Also to-day for the Liverpool market, 200 tierces Lard at 12½c. It goes via the Grand Trunk Railroad to be shipped from Portland, Me., to Liverpool. The same buyer made a shipment in December, (which we noted at the time) the same way, which reached Liverpool in forty days from here, while Lard shipped from here the same time has not reached New York yet. There will evidently be a great scarcity here of Pork and Lard, and packers are holding on for higher rates. Some think Mess Pork may rise to $20 or even $22 before September, but the more moderate suppose it will reach [illegible]

In FLOUR we have nothing new.

FURS and HIDES are active. Muskrat and Coon Skins bring good prices, while Mink is not so high as heretofore.

HIGHWINES are scarce, but 26c ₩ gallon is the highest paid.

COOPERAGE is dull—packing bbls are not wanted, and Whiskey bbls from the country would not bring over $1@1,12½ each.

We give nominal rates as follows:

FLOUR—Spring wheat extra, $4,75@5,00; winter $5,50@6,25. City mills extra $6,75. Rye Flour $4@4,25. Buckwheat flour $4,75@5,00 ₩ 100 lbs. Cornmeal $20 ₩ ton. Millfeed $17@$22 ₩ ton. Oatmeal $9,00 ₩ bbl.

WHEAT—Spring in store 99@100c; red $1,05@1,06; white $1,15@1,25.

CORN—40@41c in bulk; 42c in bags, delivered; [illegible] on board for spring delivery.

BARLEY—$1,45@1,60 for State to New York and Canada.

RYE—75@80c.

BEANS—$2,75@3,25 ₩ bushel.

BEEF—Mess $13@15 ₩ bbl; dressed $6@$8 ₩ 100 lbs.

BUTTER—Firkin 18@19c; fresh roll 18@20c.

CHEESE—W. R. 11c; Hamburg 11@12½c.

COFFEE—Rio 11½@12½c; Java 16½@17½c; Laguira 13½c.

EGGS—18@20c ₩ dozen.

FRUIT—Cranberries $6,00 ₩ bushel. Apples $2@$3 ₩ bbl; dried do [illegible] Dried peaches, pared [illegible], unpared 12½c ₩ lb. New M. R. raisins [illegible]

FUEL—Retail at yards. Wood, oak ₩ cd $7@7,50; beech and maple [illegible]; hickory $9,50. Coal—Illinois $7@7,50; Chippewa $10; Erie and Briar Hill $10,50; [illegible] $12; Lehigh $14; Scranton and other anthracite $13.

FISH—White, No. 1, hlf $4,25@4,50; No. 2, $4; Trout $4,25@4,50.

LATEST NEWS.

RECEIVED BY TELEGRAPH AND MAILS.

Adjournment of the Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 19.

The Legislature adjourned this morning.

The Apportionment Bill was vetoed by the Governor.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.

SENATE.

The Senate took up the House bill repealing the laws of Kansas and providing for a new election.

Mr. Adams, in order to avoid discussion, moved that the bill be laid on the table. Negatived by 17 against 24.

Mr. Green said he voted against laying the bill on the table because he wanted the bill examined by the judiciary committee. He had personal information that all the obnoxious laws had been repealed by the local authorities of Kansas.

Mr. Weller renewed the motion to lay the bill on the table, as it was likely to create discussion and prevent action on the important matters of legislation.

Agreed to—30 against 20.

The Submarine Telegraph bill with the House amendment, was taken up, when Hunter moved to refer it to the Post Office Committee.

Mr. Thompson, of Kentucky, held that it be done, and the committee would never report the bill back. He believed this expenditure of public money without sufficient facts or data to authorize it. We know no more about the elevation or depression of the bottom of the ocean than about mountains or valleys in the moon. Who can tell whether this little wire may not be broken by a whale or bitten off by sharks?

He illustrated his views by numerous anecdotes, creating much merriment.

Mr. Rusk replied that it was no new thing for propositions of this kind to be assailed with ridicule. Some years ago, when it was proposed to establish a telegraph line between Washington and Baltimore, somebody offered an amendment for a telegraph line to the moon. He proceeded to demonstrate the feasibility of the scheme and advantages to be derived from it.

Messrs. Hunter and Butler opposed the bill and Bell, of Tennessee, Stuart and Seward advocated it.

The debate was not concluded.

Mr. Wilson offered a resolution which was adopted directing the Secretary of Treasury to inform the Senate whether lands owned by the United States, in Chelsea, Massachusetts, have been sold as authorized by an act passed March 3, 1855; if so, whether they were sold at public or private sale; to whom sold, and at what price per foot.

The Senate then adjourned.

The Senate was in executive session yesterday on nominations for Naval Officers.

A warm debate ensued in view of the fact that the Courts of Inquiry for officers aggrieved by the action of the late Naval Board, may recommend the restoration of a sufficient number of those heretofore suspended, to fill the present vacancies in the Navy.

HOUSE.

Mr. Letcher, from Committee of Ways and Means, reported bill for extending time for Norfolk and Petersburg Railroad, to pay duty on Iron in consequence of embarrassment of its finances having been occasioned by the late prevalence of Yellow Fever.

Mr. Campbell, of Penn., moved to lay the bill on the table.

Agreed to by four majority.

Mr. Davis, of Md., by direction of Investigating Committee, said he had been directed to make special report in case of Wm. A. Gilbert, of N. Y., and moved that the report be printed, and stated that he should move, when that question was determined, to postpone further consideration until Monday next.

Mr. Grow denied the right of the Committee to make this report as a question of privilege; they must first obtain leave, especially if report implicates members of this House.

[Mr. Letcher and others, amid excitement, loudly demanded the reading of the report.]

Mr. Grow resumed—said Committee have exceeded their authority, and violated the constitutional rights of members.

The Speaker said Mr. Davis must state the character of the report.

[Renewed cries—"Let it be read."]

Mr. Smith of Va. understood the Committee were instructed to make a report, and not statement merely.

Mr. Orr remarked if the House desired to know the contents of the report, let it be read.

Mr. Grow resumed his speech, with much earnestness, and was called to order by several members.

The Speaker said the report could not be read, because it was in the nature of a debate.

Amid the confusion Mr. Bennett of N. Y. moved that the report be re-committed. He was opposed to their proposing to expel a member by resolution, without due notice.

Mr. Florence—We don't know what is proposed until we hear the report read. I object to the motion of the gentleman from New York.

Mr. Houston insisted on the reading of the report.

After further proceedings Bennett said the report was of grave import and affected one of his colleagues. No man in the land could be accused, tried and condemned without a hearing; much less judgment on a member being brought in here and put through under pressure of a previous question. The Committee were appointed in consequence of an article in the New York Times, charging corrupt combinations of members.

Mr. Harris, of Ill., called Mr. Bennett to order.

The Speaker ruled Mr. Harris out of order, but—

Mr. Harris continued speaking, amid cries of order, during which the Speaker said he would direct the Sergeant-at-Arms to arrest him or any other person violating the rules. Mr. Harris' reply was not heard.

Conversation ensued as to duties of committee under the authority of the resolution, by which they were appointed. Finally—

Mr. Davis, of Md., read report in case of Mr. Gilbert. Special report concludes with a resolution for the expulsion of Gilbert. Warm debate followed. The report sets forth the evidence in the Gilbert case, saying that the House can judge for themselves the justness of the conclusions of the committee.

Mr. Watson interposed saying he understood the duty of Committee was merely to report evidence and that Gilbert had had no opportunity to confront his accusers. Orr replied that the gentleman was not correctly informed. Every facility was offered.

Davis resumed reading the report, showing that Sweeny and Triplett were witnesses against Gilbert, both having been examined separately and given their testimony reluctantly.

Allusion is made to summoning witnesses to discredit the testimony of Sweeney, and by the latter to sustain his character. The committee give their evidence in favor of the truthfulness of Sweeney's statement made under oath, and offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That Wm. A. Gilbert, member of this House from N. Y., did agree with F. F. C. Triplett, to procure the passage of the resolution or bill through the present Congress for the purchase by Congress of certain copies of the book of the said Triplett, on pension and bounty land laws in consideration that said Triplett should allow him to receive a certain sum of money out of the appropriation for that purpose.

That Gilbert did cast his vote on Iowa Land Bill, depending heretofore before this Congress for a corrupt consideration, consisting of seven square miles of land and some stock given, or to be given to him. That Gilbert be forthwith expelled from this House. The Report is signed by Davis of Maryland, Orr, Warner, Ritchie and Kelsey. The Chairman dissenting.

Mr. Grow stated that Mr. Gilbert was not notified of the charges against him.

Mr. Orr replied that a complete copy of testimony was furnished the accused and opportunity given for defence.

Mr. Grow said that the reputation of the member should not thus be stabbed, who should be permitted to give his testimony in his own way. He charged the Committee with violation of the Constitutional privileges of members in their star chamber, by their proceedings in summoning witnesses from the streets to blacken his character. He denied that Sweeney was entitled to credit anywhere, and while the Committee are ready to stab the reputation of the member, they stand as a wall of fire around the character of Sweeney who could sit there during the examination while Gilbert was denied that right.

Mr. Bennett of New York did not design attacking any member of the Committee, but he questioned their jurisdiction. The report was nothing but an ingenious argument against the accused coupled with the resolution of expulsion. Was it ever before heard of that under resolution for their appointment they could act as Grand and Petit Jury, and as Court, to condemn him? If the Committee were angels from Heaven instead of members of Congress, he should object to their jurisdiction. We have tried nobody, they say. No, but they have condemned a man without a trial. The Committee should have made a general report only. What if Simonton did publish a lie in the Times? Were we to take it up as true and pass a law to milk corruption out of corrupt witnesses?

Sweeney was a poor, miserable, specimen of degraded humanity. He understood that the report of the evidence was already in the hands of two or three New York papers, and it would have the effect to excite prejudice against the accused.

There must be a victim, and hence the cry of mad dog is raised. There is an absence of manliness in such a course. Extreme injustice may be done by this course of proceeding. The accused should have a fair hearing, and he protested against the course of the committee.

After a long debate on the various reports, it was recommended in addition to Gilbert's expulsion, that of Edwards, Welsh and Matteson.

Mr. Kelsey dissented from the reports in the case of the above members. They are signed by all of the Committee except Kelsey.

All matters ordered to be printed.

Further consideration was postponed until Wednesday next.

Illinois Legislature.

Funding of the State Interest now unpaid—Republican Measures—Special Legislation—Seven [illegible] Laws—The Republican Protest—General Appropriation Bill.

SPRINGFIELD, Wednesday Noon.

The bill authorizing the funding of the arrears of interest on the State Debt passed the Senate last evening, and will undoubtedly receive the signature of the Governor to-day. This is a very important measure and will contribute more than any thing which has been done by Illinois, since 1847, to restore her credit and put her in the rank of debt paying States. It met, however with violent opposition, from its inception in the House, down to the final vote in the Senate upon its passage. Egypt arrayed herself against it, as she always has against anything which looked toward the improvement of the State's financial reputation; and the same appeals which were successfully resisted in 1844-5, when the completion of the Canal was provided for, and again, in 1847, when the debt was funded, were again made to the ignorance and stupidity of her representatives. Fortunately there were those, even among the "fall-downers," who could recognize the justice of the claim made upon the Legislature, and were willing to listen to it and act to become the guardians of the State's honor. In the Senate, all the Republicans, HENDERSON of Stark, alone excepted, were in favor of the bill. ADAMS of Stephenson and ADAMS of Kane, both strong advocates of the measure, have gone home, else the vote would have been more decisive. As it was there was a bare constitutional majority only.

The funding of the State debt, the amendment of the General Banking Law, the act for the improvement of the Illinois River, and the Normal University are Republican measures and have received an almost unanimous Republican support. Many of our friends would be glad to trade off the "University" for the proposed [illegible] school; but, as they were not able to carry the latter, they must content themselves as well as they can with the doubtful usefulness of the former, and be glad it is does not by and by plague its inventors. Beyond passing these and a few general acts of less importance, the Legislature, through all the whole mill of work, has done nothing which will advance its credit or promote the interests of the people at large. Local and private acts they have put through without number; and of the seven hundred laws which the Governor has already approved, probably not more than five per cent. are general in their character. If this work of incorporating every body for all sorts of purposes goes on much longer, it will be impossible for individuals to do business in a private capacity, and the day will come in which a Convention will be obliged to resort to [illegible] measures, and, at one blow, put an end to existing corporate bodies, good and bad alike. This would be an extreme measure, but if the evil grows as it now promises to, it will be the only remedy left.

A vote upon the resolution, moved in the House, yesterday, to amend the journal by striking out the protest of the minority, was not reached at the hour of adjournment for dinner. The subject will probably be continued this afternoon, when "unfinished business" is in order, unless the desire of members to pass their local bills is stronger than the provocation to still further carry down the Speaker and his party friends. In the afternoon, the General Appropriation Bill was got through and sent over to the Senate. It is a document which should have been closely scanned; but, as with every thing else of importance, it was shoved in the last week of the session and then members are told that they must take it as it is, or the wheels of government will be stopped. An attempt was made to amend it in certain particulars, but, except that the item for [illegible] the [illegible] was [illegible] out, no headway was made.

In the Senate, the Apportionment Bill was read a second time. [illegible] the requirements of the Constitution by [illegible] much time was consumed. While it was under discussion, Messrs. JUDD, of Cook, and COOK, of LaSalle, made admirable speeches, pointing out the unfairness, injustice and unconstitutionality of the measure; but, it has been resolved that the bill should be carried, and, though its injustice was acknowledged, its party friends could not be induced to alter a line or erase a word.

Wednesday, 4 o'clock.

The Apportionment Bill was called up in the Senate this morning and passed under the operation of [illegible] examined by the committees and read to the House, while the others and the one the friends of the measure were trying to get through. The contest was very fierce and animated—Messrs. LOGAN, [illegible] and DOUGHERTY for the bill, and Messrs. EUSTACE, CHURCH and others against it. The House adjourned without coming to a vote.

The members are getting very tired of legislating, and are anxious to get home. During these long evening sessions they get beyond all restraint, and seem to suffer from confinement as much as any lot of school-boys you ever saw. They can't or won't be kept in order at all. Last evening they got to cutting up all kinds of capers—[illegible] other's chairs, throwing paper balls at each other's heads, and indulging in almost every species of rudeness they could conceive of, all [illegible]. The "noise and confusion" was such that it was almost impossible for the Clerk to hear or to be heard.

The weather was more pleasant yesterday, and in the afternoon and evening we had the usual display of ladies in the gallery. I saw last evening what I did not think ever could happen in our State Capitol. I saw some men or, at least, they looked like men, as well as I could see from my seat to the gallery—refuse to give up their seat to some ladies.

This morning, the weather is densely cloudy and foggy, with a light misty rain falling. The streets are very wet and muddy, and growing more so all the time.

The most of this forenoon was occupied in discussing and amending the Special Appropriation Bill, which was reported this morning from the Committee on Public Accounts and Expenditures. After some discussion, and being amended by having the pay of the clerks reduced from seven to six dollars per day, it was put upon its passage.

Mr. EUSTACE made a speech, not in opposition to the bill, but to show the comparative economy of this with the last Legislature. The figures he read show that this Legislature is paying clerks one hundred and fifty per cent. more than did the last.

Mr. EUSTACE introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That the seat now occupied by Mr. SHALLENBERGER, Esq., as Representative from the [illegible] District, is hereby declared vacant.

This frightened the Douglasites pretty badly, for some of their members were absent; but after a fierce fight of about half an hour, they [illegible]

Congress on the Bogus Laws of Kansas.

Every friend of Free Kansas must feel highly gratified at the splendid vote cast in the House of Representatives for the "relief of the people of Kansas." The bill was introduced by GROW of Penn. It sets forth that the "Shawnee Legislature" of Kansas was forced upon the people by non-residents, in violation of the organic law of the Territory, and having thus usurped the legislative power, it enacted cruel, oppressive, and unconstitutional laws. The bill then proceeds to repeal all rules and regulations purporting to be laws adopted at Shawnee Mission by a body of men claiming to be the Legislature, and declaring invalid all acts and proceedings of that assembly; likewise providing for the new election of members of the Legislature, and pains and penalties for illegal voting and unlawful interference with the rights of voters.

In other words, GROW's bill wipes out the whole batch of "Shawnee Mission laws," and provides legislation. This wholesome and radical bill received the splendid vote of twenty majority, in a House in which the Republicans proper are six or eight votes in the minority. This proving the justice of the cause, and the truth of all the allegations concerning the [illegible] inflicted upon the Free men of Kansas, by the Black Democracy. To their eternal disgrace and shame, ALLEN, HARRIS and MARSHALL, from this State, voted to sustain the tyrannical and cruel laws passed by the usurping ruffians! Would to Heaven! there had been men had the people of either of the four southern Districts to settle with, for giving those monstrous votes. They would never re[illegible]. But the day will soon come, when the people of their own districts will [illegible] from their favor and service forever.

New York Harbor Masters.

It would seem as if outsiders had not the highest confidence in the integrity of officials either at Washington or our State capitals. The report of a committee appointed by the New York Legislature to examine into the official conduct of the New York Harbor Masters, just published, will not increase this confidence. It would appear from this report, that the Harbor Masters procured their offices by corruption, though those who knew most about the affairs were themselves implicated, and hence it was very difficult to get at the evidence. These officers invariably got their purchase money back from the merchants in the shape of pay for dock and slip room. The report says:

"Enough has been developed in this investigation to show that the inducement to the wrong [illegible] not perhaps at the port of [illegible]

From Washington.

[Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1[illegible]

The Senate passed yesterday the important House bill for the wagon roads to California, one beginning at Fort Kearney and going by the way of the South Pass all the way through; the other starting at El Paso, near Santa Fe, and going to the Pacific, the road between Santa Fe and Missouri not needing an appropriation. Here at least is a useful expenditure of the public money.

The Senate at the same time passed the Minnesota Land bill; it was introduced by Mr. Toombs and is a political move to damage the Republicans. The object being foreseen it will probably be frustrated by the bill receiving their support in the House.

The Dallas Treaty is again under discussion, it stands no chance of confirmation; the object of the majority is to get rid of all obstructions to the spread of slavedom in Central America, Clayton Treaty and all.

None of the Appropriation bills have yet been sent to the Senate, and business bids fair to be as much huddled at the close of the session as ever. Both branches will meet at 11 o'clock from after to-morrow.

The opinion prevails here that the Kansas Bogus Legislature have so fixed things as to insure the adoption of a Slave Constitution by their Convention, and the aspect of affairs denotes that Kansas will be admitted as a Slave State next Winter.

The Investigation Committee's report is about ready; the discussion on it is likely to prove a serious interruption to business.

Mr. Wilson will introduce a bill to-morrow to pay Massachusetts $250,000 for the expenses of her coast defence in the last war. Virginia and Maryland got a vote in the Senate on Friday, to pay back the $190,000 they gave to the Government to establish the Capitol here, and it seems a good time to put in the long neglected claim of Massachusetts.

The opinion is gaining ground that nothing can be done with the Tariff this session, beyond increasing the free list. The conflict of views exhibited in debate points only in this direction.

Mr. Buchanan has not yet been able to find a Premier. The conservative influence is very strong for Robert J. Walker. The South have got Mr. Buchanan in their breeches' pocket.

OFFICE NATIONAL KANSAS COMMITTEE,
11 Marine Bank Building,
CHICAGO, Feb. 13, 1857.

Messrs. Sanford, Hall & Co.

GENTLEMEN: Your favor of this date, donating the use of your warehouse for the storage and reshipment of goods designed for Kansas, is received. Please accept the thanks of the Committee for this contribution, as well as for the valuable assistance from time to time rendered in expediting our business.

Very respectfully,
H. B. HURD,
Sec'y National Kansas Committee.

The Vote in the Missouri Legislature upon the Anti-Emancipation Resolution.

We were in error in stating on Saturday, that Captain Stevenson was the only member of the General Assembly from the country that voted in the negative. Upon reading the reports of the proceedings in the Inquirer and Examiner, we find that Mr. Jennings, representative from Taney and Stone, and Dr. Sutton, representative from Gasconade, voted in the negative. The representative from Putnam, Mr. McGee, in voting for the resolution, naively declared that his constituents were in favor of emancipation, but as they had not expressly instructed him upon the question, he would vote his own sentiments and not theirs. In addition to St. Louis county, which contains one-sixth of the population of the State—Taney, Stone, Gasconade, Putnam, and the two populous counties represented by Stevenson—Washington and Franklin—must be set down as in favor of emancipation.

According to the census just taken, there are several counties which have very few slaves and one or two which have none. If all the members who voted for the resolution were as frank as Mr. McGee, we are confident that we would have learned that many counties were misrepresented on that vote. As it is, the result is satisfactory to the friends of emancipation, and gives them a firm foothold in the State. The question was sprung without any concert between them, without any preparation on their part, and at a time when not only Missouri but the United States are under the domination of the propagandists and perpetuators of Slavery, and yet it appears that one-fifth of our population is favorable to emancipation. When the merits of the question are understood (and they cannot fail to be understood in a short time), one-fifth of our population will not be opposed to it.—Missouri Democrat, Monday.

Population of Ohio.

The population of Ohio has increased fifty per cent. between the years 1840 and 1856. The Cincinnati Gazette, basing its estimate upon an assumed proportion of one voter to 5½ inhabitants, places the probable population of Ohio in 1860 at 2,[illegible]. It presents the following table of the vote of the State at each Presidential election since 1840, and its estimated population and ratio of voters to inhabitants:

[illegible]

At the close of its article it remarks: "In the last ten years there has been an immense emigration from Ohio to Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska. This has been uniformly the case with all the States where lands come to $20 or $30 per acre, and is caused simply by the fact that it then becomes a speculation for farmers to sell out, and commence new farms at government price. This process will go on for only a few years, for the government is rapidly parting with all the good land it possesses. In the meanwhile, the rapid increase of town population compensates, in part, for the loss of farmers."

[illegible]

Short Credits.

"Failures throughout the country and in the Eastern cities are becoming sufficiently numerous to induce an inquiry into the causes which lead to such disastrous results, and extreme caution in giving credit. Having no sympathy with the mistaken policy which would cripple well conducted banking institutions and destroy their usefulness, we at the same time believe the permanency of the Cincinnati merchants is directly traceable to the want of such institutions in this city. Merchants doing business in Eastern cities that are favored with a banking capital, in proportion to their commerce tenfold what we enjoy, largely increase their sales by selling on long time, and borrowing money to meet all deficiencies in collections. Country merchants are thus induced to purchase much more largely, and in their turn urge consumers to purchase freely on a liberal credit. To all parties this is a temptation to overtrading not likely to be successfully resisted. A 'short crop' produces a stringency, the farmers and other consumers do not pay, the country merchants cannot pay, and merchants, (not farmers,) all go down together. The Cincinnati merchants being forced to depend mostly upon their own resources, sell for cash or on short time, and collect promptly; hence the meagre list of failures recorded of this city. The truth is, the 'credit system,' if extended beyond a mere temporary accommodation, is a fruitful source of embarrassment to all classes of society."

Every business man in the country, rich or poor, who desires permanent success, should base all his operations on the shortest system of credit possible, and then both make himself, and require of others, prompt payment—for "punctuality is the life of business."

An Editor on the Track.

The senior editor of the Westmoreland Co. (Pa.) Democrat visited Pittsburg last week. He intended to return home on the 3½ train, but delayed his departure for the depot till a few minutes before the time, and then started on a run. On turning the corner of [illegible] and Smithfield streets, he met a lady with a "sweet German accent," of magnificent proportions, and with a well-filled market basket on her arm. The effect of the collision was to turn the lady heels over head, and scatter the contents of the market basket, while the editor went straight on until he stood upon the platform of the station, just in time to be too late for this train, which was then moving along about one hundred yards up the street. "You can make it yet, stranger," was the suggestion of a by-stander, and away he went. "Go it, stranger, you're a gainin' on him," yelled an excited retail apple merchant and the stranger went. Faster went the train, and faster went our editor, and he was "gainin' on her." "Git, stranger," was the cry of a friend, "you're a gainin' on her," and stranger "got." Men, women, and children stopped to see the chase, for by this time the stranger was fairly excited, and showed no disposition to give it up. One, two miles are left behind, and still the chase is kept up. Gradually the stranger kept "gainin' on her." For the next mile it was "nip and tuck"—the train a leetle ahead. When within about a mile of East Liberty it was hard to tell which would come out ahead; but had it not been for the explanatory and gratuitous suggestion of a man passing that way, that he was "a d—d fool, for he'd niver ketch her," we rather think that stranger would have made it. His ardor, weakened, however, by the suggestion, he quietly gave up the chase and walked back to Pittsburg in time to take the express train, which departs at half-past nine p. m.

How the Senatorial Fraud in Indiana is to be Consummated.

The present aspect of the case is this: Mr. Fitch, with an audacity known only to callous politicians of the sham Democratic school, has claimed a seat in the Senate on the strength of his bogus election, and he has been allowed to take the prescribed oath, with the understanding that his claim is to be contested. Mr. Trumbull and other Senators were in favor of referring the credentials and protests in the case to a select committee, to consist of members of both parties, but they were finally referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, in which the sham Democrats have a majority. The committee will not, of course, hurry themselves to report, and Mr. Fitch, as well as Mr. Bright, will be allowed to take his seat at the extra session to be convened on the 4th of March. As only executive business is to be considered by the Senate, their claims will not probably come up for consideration; and if they should, the investigation would most likely be protracted beyond the 10th of March, when the Legislature of Indiana will adjourn by constitutional limitation.

This, then, is the game of the bogus Democrats: If the case are not acted upon, Messrs. Bright and Fitch will be pretty sure of holding office for two years, as it is to be presumed their friends in the Senate would continue to stave off the investigation. If their seats should be declared vacant at the extra session, then Gov. Willard can be reckoned upon to confirm them in their places by appointment for at least two years. These contingencies were all taken into account, no doubt, before the fraudulent coup d'etat was resolved upon at Indianapolis.

A FUNNY EPISODE.—Legislators at Albany have a little fun once in a while as well as others. One day last week the bill to regulate the Superior Court of Buffalo having been read, Mr. Lewis desired to propose an amendment by striking out all but the English of the bill.

Mr. Foot said that the words were professional ones, but he would ask the gentleman, if he desired to amend, to translate them into English.

Mr. Lewis—It is the duty of Every Committee to report a bill in proper language to the House. [Laughter.

Mr. Scott thought the translation of the law terms into English would sound well. For instance, the writ of ne exeat, would read the writ of "no go." [Laughter.

Mr. John J. Reilly—[illegible]

RIVER MATTERS.—The river has undergone no change worth noticing since Saturday, at this point. The Upper Mississippi is reported open to Keokuk, and the Des Moines will leave for that point this evening. Rumor says the Illinois river is open, but we have received no reliable information in relation to the matter. The Missouri is known to be open and in good boating order to Glasgow, and the Emigrant left for St. Joseph on Saturday, and several other boats will start up this afternoon or Tuesday.—St. Louis Intel. 16th.

USURY LAWS IN RHODE ISLAND.—The subject of repealing all existing laws limiting the rate of interest is now before the Rhode Island House of Representatives. The Providence Journal says there is a disposition in the House to abandon, in all individual transactions, the present slight but never enforced penalty for the taking usurious interest, but not to relax in the slightest degree the restrictions now imposed upon banking corporations.

PREMATURE.—The statement that President Pierce has accepted Mr. Buchanan's hospitality and would remain for several weeks in the White House after the inauguration, was unauthorized. The household will remove on the third of March to a private residence, and the President after attending the ceremonies on the fourth, will formally vacate the Executive mansion, and turn it over to his successor.

THE ICE.—Yesterday afternoon, at about 4 o'clock, the ice in the river at this point, broke up and started on a trip to the "Sunny South." The embargo which has been laid upon navigation for near two months is now removed, and during the coming week we expect to see busy times, once more, on our levee.—Quincy Whig, Feb. 14.

The Persian Ambassador.

[Paris Correspondence of the London Times, Jan. 2[illegible]]

The Persian Ambassador, so long expected, and so much talked about in political circles, has at last presented his credentials, and this magnificent personage has taken his station among the fixed stars of our diplomacy. He promises to be the admired of all admirers, and to completely efface the traces left in our memories by the majestic proportions of Count Orloff, and the brilliancy of his diamonds. In personal advantages Feruk Khan may fairly bear a comparison with the other foreign diplomatists. He appears to be a man about forty years of age, or a little more. He wears a beard, black and rich, such as few diplomatic chins could grow, and which excites the envy and despair of the unfledged [illegible] of the older missions, who gaze on him with admiration. His eyes are black and piercing, and his figure graceful. Among those who accompany him are said to be two cousins of the sovereign of Persia, and they wear a white scarf over their rich uniforms, no doubt as a sign of their being "born in the purple chamber."

The Ambassador was doubtless ignorant of the simple grandeur of the Imperial Court, and the indifference for show and splendor which characterises our courtiers, otherwise he would not have come laden, as he is said to be, with [illegible] and rich gifts. He has brought, it seems, a whole cargo of Cashmere shawls and other such articles for presents, so that among an influential portion of the Parisian population his beaux yeux are not the only charms that will insure him a welcome. Among his attachés are one or two literary gentlemen. It would be curious to hear their opinion of men and things in this capital of European civilization, and we may yet be gratified with another series of "Persian letters" surpassing in interest the genuine correspondence which bears the name of Montesquieu. We have an Usbeck and a Ricon on the spot, and they must have left many a Roxelan and an Ibben in Teheren, to whom they can confide their thoughts.

The Moniteur has the following:—

His Excellency Feruk Khan, Ambassador from Persia, received a public audience yesterday from the Emperor, in the throne room at the Tuileries, and presented the letters accrediting him to his Imperial Majesty. His Excellency was received at the same time by the Empress.

His Excellency, the Persian Ambassador, addressed the following speech to the Emperor:—

Sire—The friendly relations which so long existed between France and Persia having been again consolidated by a recent circumstance, I have been charged by the very powerful Shah-in-Shah of Iran, my august sovereign and benefactor, to bear to your Imperial Majesty the compliments and congratulations of my sovereign. It is a happiness for me that my mission has occurred at a period when France is loaded with so many blessings from Heaven—first, the glorious accession of your Imperial family to the throne of France; next, Sire, the birth of his Imperial Highness, the heir of your crown—an event which is a guarantee for the duration of your Majesty's dynasty, and a subject of joy for all Frenchmen, and for all the friends of France; next, the conclusion of peace between the powerful allies and Russia in this same capital of France. In fine, Sire, I come to France after the conclusion of a treaty between Persia and the powerful empire of France. A fact which had ever been the object of the hopes and wishes of the two States, an object to which the efforts of the Governors and the Sovereigns of the two States tended, and which is now accomplished with the assistance of God, conformably to the intimate desire of the august sovereigns of France and Iran.

To the speech of the Ambassador the Emperor made the following reply:—

Monsieur l'Ambassadeur—I am happy that your sovereign has charged you to bring me his congratulations. When the war broke out in the East I sent with pleasure to renew our former relations with Persia, and her neutrality was not useless to us. I now congratulate myself upon the treaty of commerce concluded between our two countries, as commercial relations [illegible] the friendship of nations. It is with regret that I heard of the war which has broken out between you and one of my most intimate allies, but I entertain the most ardent wishes that your mission to this portion of the globe may hasten the return of a lasting peace. I thank you for the flattering things you have said to me of France and the Prince Imperial, and I beg you to believe in my full sentiments of good will towards you.

Feruk Khan, after having presented to their Majesties the persons attached to his suite, handed to the Emperor in the name and on the part of his Sovereign, the Royal Order of Persia, and presents for the Empress and the Imperial Prince.

His Excellency the Persian Ambassador and his attendants were conveyed to the palace of the Tuilleries in court carriages and reconveyed after the audience to the hotel of the Persian Embassy with the same ceremony.

Shocking Tragedy in New Orleans.

[From the Picayune, Feb. [illegible]]

Last evening, a female with a quick step and a flushed face, might have been seen moving hurriedly along Calliope street, and when near Tchoupitoulas, she turned into a house, which, in a moment after, was the scene of a most fearful tragedy. The woman was Mrs. Mary Call, and the house she entered was the temporary abode of her husband's alleged paramour, one Margaret Kelly. As Mrs. Call entered the house and attempted to pass into a rear room in quest of her husband, Margaret Kelly sprung before her, and grasped her by the throat, and as she did so, Mrs. Call drew a knife and plunged it into her heart, thereby killing her on the spot. [illegible] who was attracted to the spot by the noise of the occurrence, immediately entered, and seeing Mrs. Call standing over the prostrate body of her victim, took her into custody, and conveyed her to the First District Lockup. Subsequently a woman named Margaret Clark was arrested as an accessory to the murder, but in what manner she was accessory we have not learned. We may perhaps obtain further facts when the Coroner's inquest is completed.

According to Mrs. Call's statement, she and her husband resided at St. Louis, and he, being a bricklayer, came to this city, about three or four months ago, in search of employment. While here he became acquainted with Margaret Kelly, and at length it was rumored that an improper intimacy existed between them. Mrs. C. then pursued her husband to the city, and finding him repentant, she forgave him for his past transgressions, and they went to live in a house on Dryades street.

Recently the husband made a trip on a boat, and on his return he went to his wife's residence and stopped with her one night. The next day he left her, and she learned that he had renewed his intimacy with Margaret Kelly. After waiting two days for his return, the enraged wife went in pursuit of her husband, and the bloody issue thereof we have already stated. The prisoner does not appear in the least to regret the bloody business in which she has been engaged.

Robes of Office.

The Toronto City Council having adopted a resolution [illegible] the deliberations of the Council, and upon all official occasions, wear similar gowns and robes of office as those worn by the Chief Magistrates of the principal cities of Great Britain, W[illegible] Lyon Mackenzie, of the Toronto Message, says [illegible] correctly adds:

"Were Mackenzie's opinion and pleadings in the [illegible] ary robe and [illegible] a three cocked hat [illegible] duced a magnificent robe lined with purple velvet. Away with such trappings! They do very well in Niblo's [illegible] for stage players, but they are an insult to the common sense of the age in our courts."

[illegible] Scandal.

A tragical affair occurred [illegible] last week, in which Miss Grace Greenwood and Mr. W. E. Anderton [illegible] were members of a theatrical company [illegible] in that city. The origin of the [illegible] seems to be as follows:

"Friday night was set apart for the benefit of Miss Greenwood, but owing to some cause or other, the exhibition did not take place. She blamed Mr. Anderton for it, [illegible] authority. The enraged lady [illegible] a cowhide [illegible] of lengthy proportions and commenced [illegible]

An Assault Upon an Editor—A Connecticut Excitement.

The Middletown, Ct., papers contain an account of an assault made upon Walter S. Carter, editor of the Middlesex Argus, by Captain DeKay of [illegible] the former was beaten so severely that his life is in danger.

A subscriber to the Argus had moved out of a house where the carrier had been in the habit of leaving the paper. The Rev. Mr. Harwood, who is said to be a Professor in the Berkley Divinity school in that place, had moved in. The paper was left as usual, and was taken in by the Reverend gentleman for eight or nine months. At the end of that time the Rev. Mr. Harwood, after having abused the editor at a public meeting, sent an insulting letter to him, accusing him of thrusting his paper upon him, and asking to have it discontinued. This note the editor published with comments. Capt. DeKay, Harwood's brother-in-law, was sent for, or came, from New York, and, as now appears, it was decided on Saturday that he should take the matter in hand. On Monday morning, Capt. DeKay found Mr. Carter in a book store, and struck him over the head several times, got him down and pounded his head on the floor, and kicked him in the chest and ribs, bringing on bleeding at the lungs and endangering his life. Captain De Kay has been arrested.

There is great excitement against De Kay, and a strong posse is in force to prevent violence, as there have been demonstrations showing that he may be lynched if he gets into the hands of the people. Every lawyer in the town has refused to defend him.

THE NORTH PACIFIC EXPLORATIONS.—We have already noticed the rich collections made by the United States expedition which recently returned from an exploration of the Northern Pacific Ocean. They are entrusted to the Smithsonian Institute. The National Intelligencer remarks concerning the discoveries which it made, and the charts prepared by its scientific corps:

"Of the more prominent national results which might, and indeed must flow from this expedition, would seem to be that connected with the virtual discovery of the island of Ousima, populated by a few Japanese, but capable of affording to whalers in those seas, of our own and other nations, havens of rest fully up to what the most enthusiastic could desire. It is not difficult to say what disposition should be made of these charts and sketches, the most important should be selected, painted or engraved, and published without unnecessary delay. The expedition has made discoveries, extended information before contracted and imperfect, and corrected errors vitiating the charts of those seas prepared at the expense of other nations."

HOW A SPANISH MINISTER GETS OUT OF FAVOR AT COURT.—The London Times publishes a letter from Madrid, dated Jan. 16th, which shows how frivolous an incident may threaten the overthrow of a ministry. A Spanish premier must not forfeit the smiles of his Queen by too much [illegible]

A few days since Narvaez appeared at the Opera in the box set apart for the Ministers, accompanied by a lady of great beauty, and supposed to be a relation of his. It was intimated to him that the Court saw with displeasure that the lady occupied the place which belonged to the other Ministers, who were consequently obliged to content themselves with the back seats of the box. General Narvaez endeavored to exculpate himself, but three nights ago he appeared with the same lady, and occupied the same post. When the Queen entered her box, Narvaez went as usual to pay his respects, but Her Majesty turned her back upon him, and did not even return his salute. But, what was the "unkindest cut of all," Her Majesty turned her eyes to the box where General O'Donnell was [illegible] most graceful, gracious and affectionate manner. Narvaez looked black as thunder. You may judge how the audience was amused at these exhibitions. Do not accuse me of lingering [illegible] the mutual jealousies, hatreds and fear of those who alternately oppress and ruin the country are but poor satisfaction for us—but it is all we have. These slights, added to the manœuvres of the Absolutists, which are every day more menacing, convince Narvaez that a storm is coming, the issue of which is doubtful.

BOLIVAR, Jan. 21, 1857.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Gents, I saw in one of the Memphis papers some time ago, a notice of a man [illegible] cutting a full set of teeth. Look at that story. I have a negro woman who says she is one hundred years old, but supposed to be about ninety-three, who never had a tooth in her head until within the last six months. Since the first day of August she has cut as pretty a set of teeth as I ever saw in any person's mouth, and moreover, she can pick 100 pounds of cotton per day the week round.

I vouch for the above, and if any person doubts the truth of it, let them come to Bolivar, and I will prove it—every word of it.

Very respectfully, JOHN H. FULLER.

THE EXTRAORDINARY PATRONAGE bestowed upon this long established and popular institution, affords gratifying evidence that the superior advantages and facilities it affords for the acquisition of a thorough knowledge of the various branches of a Commercial Education, are favorably appreciated by a discerning and intelligent community.

Over two hundred full course students have been in attendance during the past winter, which is an amount of patronage unparalleled in this country.

The Collegiate Course is the most extensive, complete and thorough ever introduced into any Commercial College in this country, and comprises practical instruction in Book Keeping and Accounts adapted to every kind of business, including an elaborate work on Railroad Book Keeping and Accounts, prepared by the President of this College, (formerly Cashier of the Michigan Central Railroad Co.) expressly for its use; a knowledge of which to the student is, alone, worth to him more than the tuition fees paid for the entire course, together with commercial calculations pertaining to the Counting Room, Business Penmanship and the subject of Commercial Law.

The design of the institution being to qualify its students for the practical and intelligent discharge of an accountant's duties, the school is therefore considered a Counting Room, and the students at once introduced to the workings and routine of business.

The school is in continued session, and students being instructed individually and not in classes, may enter whenever they please, and each student is entitled to a life-scholarship.

In addition to the able corps of instructors employed in this College, valuable acquisitions have been made by the association of Thomas J. Sloan, Esq., late of Pennsylvania, a graduate of one of the first Eastern Colleges, and a professional teacher of high rank and much experience, who will superintend the Counting Room Department; by the appointment of Hon. Andrew Harvie, Prof. of Political Economy and Laws of Nations; and also by the engagement of Albert Kidder, Esq., the popular American Card Writer, as Prof. of Penmanship, whose specimens of penmanship received the highest premium at the great State Fair held in New York City in 1856.

Arrangements are made for the delivery at Metropolitan Hall of a series of free public lectures, during the ensuing winter, by several of our distinguished citizens, who have kindly and generously consented to appear on the same platform. The course will be similar to that delivered before this college last winter, which elicited the highest encomiums of the public and the press.

No expense or effort is spared to render the Institution worthy of the liberal and general patronage bestowed upon it, and an ample guaranty is afforded of the ability of the school to impart in the most thorough and practical manner, instruction in the wide range of useful study pursued in its various departments.

Students being instructed individually, and not in classes, may enter whenever they please. Circulars and Catalogues furnished gratis, on application at the college.

Boys' School.

A. J. SAWYER, A. M., LATE PRINCIPAL of the Chicago Female Seminary, will open a School for Boys on Monday, November 24, 1856, in the First Baptist Church, corner of Lasalle and Washington streets, entrance on Lasalle street. The number will be limited to 25 pupils, who will be instructed entirely by Mr. Sawyer, except in French and German, the former of which will be taught by Mons. Jacques Emile Hamilton, and the latter by an experienced native teacher.

Penmanship.

THE KIDDERIAN SYSTEM OF GEOMETRICAL Penmanship, originated and perfected by Prof. A. Kidder, who will commence a series of Lessons for the winter, in Bell's Commercial College Building, Thursday, Nov. 27th. The system is plain, rapid, easy, elegant and perfect. The Business Man will here acquire a bold free business style. Ladies taught a beautiful flowing or Ladies style. Prof. Kidder is popularly known as "The American Writer," and the system has a national importance. Tuition 24 lessons, $5. Ladies classes at 3 o'clock P.M. Gentlemen's and Youths, at 7½ o'clock evening. Visiting, invitation and wedding cards written at Tremont House, during the day, in a tasteful elegant style that surpasses engraving.
